

Learning to lean on The Lord

Written by Lu

Sunday, 14 December 2014 00:29 - Last Updated Sunday, 14 December 2014 00:45

I would like to talk about Sampson and something that is seldom brought up: his natural strength. Generally, when we think about Sampson, we think about his supernatural strength or his fall to temptation resulting from dabbling with Delilah; however, I believe there is something else to be revealed here that we can all benefit from. I believe Sampson's greatest folly was not leaning on God because of his natural strength.

You see, I don't picture Sampson as a wimpy lad wandering around waiting for the Spirit of the Lord to come upon him, empowering him. The Bible says he was a warrior, so I believe he had plenty of natural strength of his own. He had to be ready to battle 24/7, in season and out.

Beloved, I believe that each of us has some natural strength that makes it possible to walk out what God has called us to do. Let me explain. There is a call, there are gifts, and there are talents – three different things. Each of us has received a call from God to be the light to the world around us. The gifts of the Holy Spirit empower us to reflect that light through the talents God has given us.

How that glorious Light is expressed through us will be uniquely different for everyone. A talent represents any kind of natural resource we are given. For example, a worship leader isn't a worship leader just because they can play an instrument or sing. A worship leader is called by God to lead others into His presence.

Furthermore, God may give that leader a supernatural gift of being able to hear His voice through the music so he/she can prophesy. Nevertheless, that individual has a natural talent of making music; there is skill that he/she needs to utilize in order to make that joyful sound to the Lord. With all that said, natural talent/strength can make beautiful music, but it can only touch the soul realm of the listener. Only the anointing of His Spirit will touch the heart. We need to be about the heart, not soul, my dear friends in the time we are entering into if you have any soul left in you, you won't be able to stand the times.

The problem we see today is that we are idolizing people for their talents and gifts. We are becoming followers of Ministries, rather than followers of Him. We need to study God in His wholeness, as we do that it will teach us Humility, watch our speech and actions, and a deep reverence for Him. Many times we feel sad comparing ourselves to Him, remember though we are imperfect and limited in this life, we should not undervalue our level of growth. See growth is godly character and personality in our calling—we are to be like Him.

This coming year increase your prayer life. The Bible says that prayerlessness is symbolized by sleep. It's no coincidence that Sampson was sleeping on Delilah's lap when his hair was cut. When he woke up, he just assumed that he could operate once again as he had always done before. Beloved, please hear this: Just because God anointed what you did yesterday, doesn't mean that He's anointing it today.

"There is a way that seems right to a man, but its end is the way of death." Evidently it was worth repeating, because it's quoted twice: both in Proverbs 14:12 and in Proverbs 16:25. So often we run out and do something assuming it will work just because it's worked for us in the past. Sampson ran out in the way that seemed right to him, and his enemies captured him. His greatest deception was not Delilah; it was his own strength. The deception comes when our natural talent causes us to lose sight of our utter dependency on God.

Learning to lean on The Lord

Written by Lu

Sunday, 14 December 2014 00:29 - Last Updated Sunday, 14 December 2014 00:45

It would be very easy for us to lean on our experiences, or our gifts, rather than leaning on Him anymore – Look at Proverbs 3:5 says, "Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and lean not on your own understanding." Sampson woke up finding himself once again in a situation where he needed to use his strength, and he said, "'I will go out as before, at other times, and shake myself free!' But he did not know that the LORD had departed from him" (Judges 16:20).

Sampson got up and ran out as he had many times before, but notice, this time he didn't even know that the presence of the Lord had left him. O' God, how sad...how is this possible that he didn't even know? He must have been doing things for a long time in his own strength if he couldn't even discern the difference between when God was with him and when He wasn't.

I know in my own life, what it feels like to run out apart from the presence of the Lord. I know what it feels like to have turned left when God has turned right, only to find myself standing in my own strength and not His. God is ringing the alarm saying, "Warning, warning, please remember to lean!" What will it take us to get there? Does God have to cut our hair, or can we realize it through this glimpse into Sampson's life?

We have an opportunity right now to learn from Sampson's mistake. Each one of us have a different callings, but there is one thing that is common. However, one thing that we all have in common is our total dependency on Jesus Christ to help us walk it out.

The Lord wants us leaning on Him in all things, always! Seriously, think about it: all things, always – in your Ministry, your home, your relationships, your day to day affairs.

The Lord is inviting us today to take this leaning position. May we respond and choose to lean. Amen and Amen.

Our work in the Kingdom is not possible without you standing with us prayerfully and financially. For those that are led to donate on an ongoing basis or a onetime gift, you may send to the address below or click on this link. "SUPPORT" Or go to our website and click on On Line Donations in the navigational menu.

We are very grateful to you for your partnering with us as we endeavor the fields of God's harvest together.

Blessings

Lu & Cynthia

Learning to lean on The Lord

Written by Lu

Sunday, 14 December 2014 00:29 - Last Updated Sunday, 14 December 2014 00:45

Ps Lu Luthra

"A Dwelling Place

Gateway to Heaven Ministry"

1734 Pepper stone Court

St Augustine.FI 32092